1. A Message from Simon Zutshi

Dear Sponsor,

I want to personally thank you for your interest in sponsoring one of our major property investors network (pin) events. Your consideration shows that you recognise the unique opportunity to engage with a community of proactive property investors.

Since 2003, pin has been dedicated to providing a supportive and inspiring environment for individuals who are serious about building their property portfolios and achieving financial freedom. We may not be the largest property training company in the UK, but we're proud to have consistently helped more students achieve real success than any other organisation in the industry. Our students are action-takers driven, motivated, and keen to expand their portfolios. In doing so, they often require the products and services of trusted suppliers like yourself.

We're excited about the possibility of working with suppliers who share our values of integrity, expertise, and long-term success. By sponsoring one of our events, you'll have the chance to showcase your business to a highly engaged audience of property investors who are fully committed to their property journey they've invested time, effort, and money into attending these events. We look forward to exploring how we can work together, this is more than just a marketing opportunity. It's a chance to build meaningful relationships with people who are genuinely interested in what you offer.

We offer a range of sponsorship packages at various price points, making it easy for you to find the right option that aligns with your goals and budget.

Whether you're looking for exposure at a single event or a series of events throughout the year, we have a solution for you.

Spaces are limited and are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, so I encourage you to reach out to my team as soon as possible to secure your spot. Together, we can introduce your products and services to a new audience of eager investors.

Thank you once again for your consideration, and I look forward to seeing how we can help your business grow within the property community.
